SOMETHING NEW!
THE NEW PATENT
DANFORD'S
Atmospheric Coal Oil Gas Lamp!
AN ARTIFICIAL LIGHT OF SOME SORT, IS A UNIversal necessity. A Safe, Cheap and Brilliant one is a Luxury—a luxury only to those who live in large cities where Gas is used. Years of study and much capital have been expended in experiments to produce a lamp wherein the oil may be used as Coal Oil should be used without a chimney and without unpleasant odor while in use. That fruitful source of vapor or trouble and annoyance, the chimney is in DANFORD'S COAL OIL GAS LAMP avoided; it is the most perfect Lamp and will entirely supersede all other Coal Oil Lamps; it is the cheapest artificial light that can be used, giving the light of an ordinary six foot Gas burner for less than ¼ cent per hour or double the quantity of light of an ordinary Chimney Lamp for one third the cost. It will burn when turned down to a taper light ten hours for a cent, is free from smoke, can be carried from room to room, and the wind will not blow it out. These LAMPS will be on exhibition and for sale at the Music and Art Gallery of Shanahan & Bufrene corner of Morrison and First streets.

SATURDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 6, 1866.

Treason Becoming More Odious.

The party twaddle about "making treason odious" and "demanding guarantees for the future safety of the country" is the veriest nonsense.—Herald.

This is decidedly Democratic. Is there any wonder that the party which insists that treason is honorable, and that no guarantees for the future ought to be asked or given, is indignantly repudiated in every State which had a share in putting down the rebellion?

"The twaddle about making treason odious" is the "veriest nonsense," is it? Well then, who originated that "twaddle?" or rather who put it in its current shape? The "Moses" who has since stultified himself by acting on the hypothesis that it is the "veriest nonsense." Johnson was the first to use the words "treason must be made odious." He tells the country he is still true to the Baltimore platform of 1864, which declares that "rebels and traitors must be brought to the punishment due to their crimes." The Democrats all support him, and he and they agree together that his own former declarations, as well as those of the platform on which he was nominated, are the "veriest nonsense." Yet Johnson, say they, is a great and wise and consistent statesman. Great, then, because the greatest of impostors; wise, because he is the inventor of a policy which has proved a disgraceful failure; consistent, because he now sets down as the "veriest nonsense" his own utterances of hardly a year ago.

But treason is odious. So it is adjudged whenever the people speak. What mean the elections that have been held in the loyal States since Johnson's endeavor to prove "the twaddle about making treason odious, the veriest nonsense?" What signifies the outburst of loyal indignation which is certain to carry every remaining Northern State against Johnson this fall? It is the voice of the people proclaiming the odiousness of treason. Treason is more odious now than it was last year. It is more odious to-day than it was yesterday. The effort of Johnson and his allies to make it seem a virtue, causes it to be regarded with the deeper detestation. They will yet discover that the righteous hatred of treason and traitors which pervades the loyal mind of the nation, is anything else than the "veriest nonsense." The people will not be persuaded that treason is honorable. "Take any form but that."

On one of the banners displayed across Broadway, New York, in honor of the President, was the following:

Show me the man that makes war on the Government and fires on its vessels, and I will show you a traitor. If I were President of the United States I would have all such arrested, and when tried and convicted, by the Eternal God I would have them hung. ANDREW JOHNSON.
March 1, 1861.

Johnson said it, but when the time came to act he was not the same man.

AN ILLUSTRATION.—H. Rives Pollard the editor of the Richmond Enquirer, who regretted that the rebels should not succeed "for the sake of the moral distinctiveness, well known superiority in civilization, political scholarship and high standard of individual character of the people of the South over those of the North," has been indicted for whipping a woman at Richmond. He started for Washington after being put under bonds for $1,000, and this amount has been forfeited.

The Kearney (Nebraska) Herald says that for forty miles around that place the whole country is filled with grasshoppers, and that they are destroying the crops—stock and branch—with alarming brevity. By the last of this week they will have consumed the last vestige of cultivated vegetation, and will then commence on prairie grass and sod productions.

NOTABLE DEATH.—The Omaha Republican announces the death of E. M. Trumbull, Receiver of the United States Land Office. Trumbull was a brother of Senator Trumbull, of Illinois, and was highly esteemed by his fellow citizens. He was appointed to office by President Lincoln five years ago.

A great ratification meeting was held in Salem on Thursday evening, at the Court House. Speeches were made by Senator Corbett, W. C. Johnson, G. W. Lawson and others.

Soldiers who have been honorably discharged are exempt from the income tax.

OREGON LEGISLATURE.

Fourth Regular Session.

Senate.

SALEM, Thursday, October 4, 1866.

Prayer by Rev. Mr. Williams.

REPORTS FROM STANDING COMMITTEES.

Mr. JOHNSON, from the Committee of Judiciary, to whom had been referred S. B. No. 6—To regulate enclosures—reported the same back with several amendments, which were adopted, and the bill was ordered engrossed for a third reading to-morrow.

Mr. PYLE asked to be relieved from further service on the Committee of Ways and Means, stating as a reason for the request, that he should be absent time and for leave of absence for the remainder of the session, and he thought whoever should succeed him ought to be appointed at once, so that the business of the committee might not be delayed.

Mr. PRESIDENT said the application of the gentleman to be relieved from his committee, is hardly upon the line that he will be granted leave of absence. If granted leave of absence, that would necessarily also relieve him from service on the committee.

Mr. JOHNSON was disposed to object to excusing the gentleman from the committee until granted leave of absence. While here, the gentleman may as well be employed on the committee's work.

The request not being put, no action was taken.

PROPOSALS AND MOTIONS.

Mr. PALMER gave notice of a bill to reorganize the militia of the State.

Also, a bill for the relief of Cyrus A. Reed, Adjutant-General of Oregon.

READING OF BILLS.

Mr. JOHNSON, in accordance with previous notice, introduced a bill—S. B. No. 16—To regulate the organization of the Legislative Assembly—which was read a first time. The bill provides that the first clerk of either House of the last preceding session, if present, or if not, then the first clerk, shall be the presiding officer until the House shall be organized; if neither are present, then some person appointed by the Secretary of State shall preside. The credentials of members until an organization shall be made, shall be a certified list of members elect and holding over, to be furnished by the Secretary of State. The rules of the last preceding session are to govern. The organizing officer may employ clerks.

Mr. IRON introduced S. B. No. 17—To amend the act regulating the fees of county officers in counties east of the Cascade mountains. The fees are increased in Wasco and Umatilla, thirty-three per cent., and in Union, Grant and Baker, fifty per cent.

COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE.

On motion of Mr. DOLPH, the Senate resolved itself into committee of the whole for the consideration of S. B. No. 3—relating to common schools. Mr. MILLER in the chair.

Considerable discussion arose upon Mr. CRANSTON's motion to strike out the last clause of section 21, providing that upon the passage of the bill, the Governor shall appoint a Superintendent of Public Instruction, to serve until the next general election.

Messrs. CRANSTON, JEFFRIES and others urged that it would be wiser to allow the people to elect their first superintendent; that to-morrow, the time when the system should go into effect, would be too premature the people against it. They thought it would be better to require the Governor to act as superintendent until after a two years' trial of the system, when the people would be better able to judge of its merits, if the law and as to enlighten they could want to continue it in force. If, after such trial, they should not be satisfied with the law, they would elect a Legislature to repeal it, and would not want a superintendent at all. Thus the expense of a superintendent would be saved.

Messrs. PALMER, DOLPH, JOHNSON and others spoke against the amendment as calculated to needlessly postpone the operation of the bill for two years. One of the essential features of the law is that it provides a Superintendent of Schools whose duty it will be to devote his entire time to the interests of the schools of the State. This, the Governor cannot do. If there be any virtue in the system proposed by the bill, they argued that it could not be too soon put in operation. The effect of the amendment would be to make a system requiring a head and then leaving it a head. If the act were not to be put in force for two years, the people would have opportunity for testing it and could know nothing more about it at the end of two years than they know now.

Mr. CRANSTON's motion was negatived.

After spending some further time, the committee rose, reported progress and asked leave to sit again, which was granted.

The Senate adjourned.

AFTERNOON—2 o'clock.

Mr. CALDWELL offered a joint resolution authorizing the Secretary of State to draw his warrants on the Treasurer for the mileage and one-half the per diem of the members of the Legislature. The resolution was adopted—yeas, 15; nays, Messrs. Brown, Ford, Hinsdale and Pyle all.

Mr. PYLE asked for leave of absence from and after Monday next.

Mr. FORD objected to the leave asked for, stating that the absence of a Senator from east of the mountains, could be detrimental to the interests of that section. He said there was a diversity of interests between the eastern and western halves of the State. The "web-feet" are not familiar with the wants and conditions of Eastern Oregon; and could not therefore legislate for it with that understanding which is necessary to the proper protection of its rights. The Senator from Union could materially assist, by his influence and vote, in obtaining the just demands of the people in Eastern Oregon, and he hoped that if the gentleman could possibly remain here, he would consent to do so.

Mr. PYLE thought there were no conflicting interests existing between the two sections which would not be as well adjusted, or which the western members would not be willing to adjust in his absence. He was willing to trust them with the interests of his section. He knew of no law likely to be submitted, in which his constituents would feel a peculiar solicitude, except the school law and the registry law, and they would probably be disposed of before the time mentioned for leave of absence to begin running.

The leave of absence was granted.

On motion of Mr. PALMER, the Senate went into committee of the whole for the further consideration of the school law.

The only discussion of interest this afternoon occurred on the section providing that county superintendents shall hold a teachers' institute annually, requiring the teachers of their county to attend.

Mr. CRANSTON wanted an amendment which would require the superintendents to post notices or publish notices in a newspaper of the time and place of holding such institutes, and to revoke the certificates of such teachers as should not attend, unless they had a reasonable excuse for non-attendance.

Mr. JEFFRIES opposed the section altogether, saying that the best teachers of his county denounced Teachers' Institutes as a "bore." He was opposed to providing by law for such meetings, and especially to making it obligatory upon teachers to attend them. He thought it would have the effect to drive the best teachers from the profession, and to leave it in the hands of young quarterists.

Mr. HUSTON agreed with this view of the case.

Messrs. DOLPH, PALMER, JOHNSON, and others defended the section, and spoke at some length on the beneficial influences of Teachers' Institutes, upon the condition of common schools.

The section was finally amended so as to provide for annual Teachers' Institutes, to which the Superintendents should invite the teachers of their counties.

After spending most of the afternoon in committee of the whole, the committee rose, reported progress, asked and obtained leave to sit again.

Mr. CRANSTON, on leave, introduced a bill for the relief of Isaac W. Larrison.

S. B. No. 11—Registry law—was taken up and read a second time by title, under a suspension of the rules.

Mr. JEFFRIES moved that the bill be indefinitely postponed.

Pending this motion, Mr. HUSTON said he neglected to ask for leave of absence for Mr. Stearns, as requested.

Mr. BROWN said that in like manner he had neglected to ask for leave of absence for Mr. Cartwright. No motion was taken in either case.

On motion of Mr. JEFFRIES a call of the Senate was ordered.

Pending the call of the Senate, Mr. HUSTON moved to adjourn, which was lost.

The motion to indefinitely postpone the bill was negatived.

Yeas—Messrs. Caldwell, Crawford, Cyrus, Huston, Ford, Jeffries and Miller—7. Nays—10.

The bill was referred to the Committee on Elections.

The Senate adjourned.

House.

House met as usual. Roll called—all the members present.

The SPEAKER. There seems to be no one present to pray for us this morning; so I suppose it will be necessary to dispense with the usual service.

Mr. AVERY. I move that Mr. Cox be invited to pray for us this morning. [Laughter.]

The SPEAKER ruled the motion out of order. [Laughter.]

The journal of yesterday was read.

Mr. FOUDRAY. I notice the journal states that a special committee of three rams was appointed for the consideration of the bill to improve the breed of sheep [Laughter.] I think this is a mistake. It was a committee of three members, from the Willamette valley. [Renewed laughter.]

Mr. HENDERSHOTT. As the one who moved the appointment of the committee, my recollection of the nature of it is quite distinct, and I contend that the journal is correct. [Loud laughter.]

The journal was approved.

Mr. ROSENHEIM, from the Committee on Commerce, reported, recommending the passage of the bill to create a board of pilot commissioners for the Umpqua river. Ordered engrossed and read a third time to-morrow.

A BILL TO PREVENT AMALGAMATION OF RACES.

Mr. GINGLES, from the committee to whom had been recommitted H. B. No. 8—To prevent amalgamation of races—reported, recommending that the first section be so modified as not to prohibit intermarriage with persons of less than half Indian blood.

Mr. HEIN opposed the amendment because it did not go far enough. He thought it should prohibit the intermarriage of all persons not entirely of the same blood.

After some discussion the amendment was refused.

Mr. WORTH moved to strike out the clause declaring such marriages null and void. He thought they should be made binding, as other marriages, to be dissolved only by divorce.

Mr. UPTON held that the clause in question was merely a declaration of the effect of the law, since all such intermarriages, or attempted marriages would, under this bill, if it should become a law, be no marriages at all, because illegal.

Mr. COLE suggested that this bill would conflict with the civil rights bill, and that it would therefore be improper to pass it.

Mr. HEIN said the law of Congress did not frighten him at all. He thought that law was a disgrace to our statute book, and not entitled to a moment's consideration.

Mr. WORTH said he would act upon the interpretation which was given to the civil rights law by the Republicans last Spring, i. e. that it did not tend to equalize the races.

Mr. AVERY said this was a strict party question, and he desired to see it pass by the same vote which opposed the constitutional amendment.

Mr. UPTON desired the bill so amended as not to affect marriages heretofore made, and in order to make a proposition to that effect, he hoped the present proposition would be acted on without debate, carefully. He thought the idea that there is any party in the State which favors amalgamation of the races too absurd to demand attention.

Mr. HUMASON regarded the clause proposed to be stricken out as surplusage. It was of no consequence whether it remained or not.

Mr. WHITE said he did not like the idea of making the law apply to persons of light Indian blood. There are a great many people in the State of this class, who are persons of intelligence and respectability—some of them educated and highly accomplished. This would be a direct insult to them. He desired to amend by striking out so as to make the law stop with the Indians of full blood.

Mr. LAMSON coincided with Mr. White.

Mr. LOCKHART moved a substitute for Mr. Worth's amendment so as to obviate a conflict with the civil rights law. This substitute proposed to insert after the word Indian, the words "not a citizen of the United States." He thought this necessary in order to avoid a violation of the law of the land. It was also necessary to consistency with the late action of the House in ratifying the amendment to the Constitution.

Mr. COCHRAN said that if the gentleman from Multnomah [Mr. White] had such fine ladies of color among his constituents, he should be in favor of leaving them to advance to a higher degree of attainments among their own kind. He desired to pass this bill in order to carry out the wish of his constituents, who wish to have the binding force of the civil rights bill tested in the courts.

Mr. UPTON said he had not been insane on the negro question, but in the present instance he would not be in favor of making any difference between Indians and negroes; were it not for the fact that the Government had accorded the settlement of those persons here by donation lands to them. Under the circumstances, I can see good cause for such an exception as this, but as to the other class, he could see no reason for encouraging intermarriages with them in any way.

Mr. STARKWEATHER contended that the bill was not in conflict with the civil rights bill. That bill prohibits a discrimination against any class, but as this proposes nothing against one class which is not proposed against other classes, it cannot violate the law. He was in favor of passing a law to disfranchise all white male citizens marrying persons of color. This would exclude such persons from our halls of representation, and there could be no doubt but it would be legal, and he thought it would be right.

Mr. COX said it should not be objected that this bill conflicts with the law of Congress, as the radicals had claimed that it left each State as they have always been. But he was not surprised that it should now be thought by honest and sane men of the opposite side of the House, that the civil rights law does equalize the races. He had always said that that civil rights bill would have just this effect, and the late amendment to the Constitution will do the same, and even more. It will destroy the rights of the States entirely. Under it, all our acts here are null and void. It is just as plain as a sunbeam. [Merriment.] But I am in favor of this bill; believing, as I do, that these laws of Congress, and that the late amendments to the Constitution will, in the course of time, be declared null and void. You have interfered with the domestic institutions of the States in one instance, and it extends to all instances. When you come down to the truth of the matter, our Legislature does not dare submit to the sneer of your finger. You are here proposing to abridge the rights and immunities of citizens.

Mr. UPTON. Does the gentleman hold that it is one of the rights and privileges of a negro to marry a white person?

Mr. COX. I hold that it is a privilege to marry.

Mr. UPTON. For a negro to marry a white person?

Mr. COX. You can make no distinction on account of race or color under the civil rights bill. It is a right under that bill. [Laughter.]

Mr. HENDERSHOTT called the gentleman to order.

The SPEAKER overruled the point.

Mr. UPTON asked whether side the gentleman was on in favor of or opposed to the amendment?

Mr. COX. I am replying to the thing that you have brought up here to show how ridiculous it is. I can consistently vote for this bill, but the gentleman who voted for the amendment cannot.

Mr. McCOY moved the previous question, which was refused.

On motion of Mr. HENDERSHOTT, at 11:50 A. M., adjourned.

AFTERNOON.

Mr. WORTH withdrew his motion, and

Mr. WHITE moved to strike out all of the first section after the word "Indian," so as to have the prohibition stop with persons of full blood.

Mr. HUMASON thought the proposition would kill the bill, and he thought it was an attempt to get the bill in such a condition that those who voted for the amendment to the Constitution can vote against this bill on the ground that it was its consequence. He desired them to meet it squarely, fairly. He was in favor of the bill.

Mr. NICHLIN was opposed to the amendment because it did not go far enough. He thought the Legislature should pass a strong law to prevent the increase of a mongrel race that even the inferior races are ashamed of. He was opposed to making this a party question, but as much had been said in this regard, he would remark that this bill had been brought forward by its true friends, the radicals. He had been pleased to see gentlemen take their positions on this bill. My friend from Linn (Mr. Helm) has taken his stand, and I am pleased to see that Cox took a stand upon this question of amalgamation. [Laughter.] They are trying to warn somebody off with the idea that it is in violation of the law of Congress. Now that is simply nonsense. He proceeded at some length to illustrate the subject.

Mr. HUMASON desired to reconsider the vote by which the amendment recommended by the committee was lost. He therefore moved to lay the amendments now pending upon the table, which motion prevailed.

Mr. HENDERSHOTT moved to reconsider as proposed. Agreed to.

Mr. CHANEY advocated the amendment and Mr. HINDMAN opposed it.

Mr. UPTON moved to amend by inserting the words, "wilfully and knowingly" (in the proper place), so as to avoid punishing persons granting licenses under a false impression. He explained that it was a principle of law that parties are presumed to intend the consequences of their acts. They are deemed guilty in proportion as they appear to intend the perpetration of crime. This amendment is not strictly necessary, but it is well to have such terms in our laws, in order to prevent a misconstruction of them. While on the floor he desired to make some general remarks relative to the bill. He deprecated the habit of trying to make such measures party issues. It leads attention off from business in hand to something which some party alone neglected to do. In this case the civil rights law had been more discussed than the pending bill. So far as that bill is concerned, it simply guarantees to a certain class of people the right to enjoy personal liberty, the acquisition and enjoyment of property, and access to the courts. He did not wish to be circumscribed in his action as a legislator by what some party had done or advocated. It had been his course for many years to act upon his own judgment, irrespective of party, and because he had done so, the press had seen fit to censure or attribute improper motives to him, as if his adherence to the Union party had been a recent thing. He had been identified with the Union party from the time that a portion of the Democratic party began a war of rebellion against the General Government. He had acted with the largest wing of his party in standing by the Government during the rebellion, and now he was not willing to go back to the embrace of those who left the party to go into rebellion. He considered party principles foreign to the bill under consideration.

Mr. COX said if he would be allowed to make a political speech without being called to order.

The SPEAKER stated the question before the House.

Mr. COX. Well, I want to reply to the gentleman from Multnomah, and I ask if the Speaker will let me make a political speech? [Laughter.]

Mr. HENDERSHOTT called the gentleman to order.

The amendment was adopted. After some further discussion and amendments, the bill was ordered engrossed and read a third time to-morrow.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Mr. UPTON, from the Committee on Ways and Means, reported, recommending the passage of the bill to defray the expenses of the Legislature. The report was received, and the bill passed unanimously, as also did the joint resolution to transfer moneys from the Penitentiary, not exceeding $2,000, to the Legislative fund.

The Secretary of State furnished advance copies of his own and the Treasurer's biennial reports, with the information that the printing of all the copies will be finished soon.

Mr. DODGE introduced a bill to prevent the killing of game at certain seasons of the year.

Mr. HERMAN introduced a bill for the relief of John Fullerton.

Mr. COLE introduced a bill to organize the county of Lincoln out of a part of Douglas county.

Mr. COLE introduced a bill in relation to the competency of witnesses. Also a bill to repeal the present election law and to revive the law of Jan. 11, 1864. Referred to a committee consisting of Messrs. Cox, Herman, and Nicklin.

Mr. GARLICK introduced a bill in relation to the militia.

Mr. HELM gave notice of a bill to repeal and abolish the entire militia system.

Mr. HERMAN gave notice of a bill to increase the compensation of assessors.

Mr. GARRETT gave notice of a bill in relation to roads and highways.

Mr. BAIRD gave notice of a bill to prohibit negroes or mulattoes from coming to or residing within the state.

Several bills were read a second time.

After several ineffectual attempts to adjourn, on motion of Mr. ROSS, at 5:30 P. M., adjourned.

SECRETARY MCCULLOCH ON THE FINANCIAL SITUATION.—The leading business men of Boston sent an invitation to Secretary McCulloch, while on his trip to Maine, early in the month, to accept the honor of a public dinner. The invitation did not reach him until after his return to Washington, and in a letter of thanks for the honor, he says of the state of the finances:

Although it was hoped that ere this the currency of the country would have been brought nearer to the specie standard, I am sure the people have cause for congratulation that our finances are in so healthy a condition as they are.

Since March, 1865, the war has been brought to a successful conclusion; immense armies have been disbanded; every soldier has been paid before being mustered out of the service; all maturing obligations of the government have been satisfactorily provided for, while the notional debt is nearly two hundred and fifty millions less than it was estimated it would be at the present time, and the reduction of it has averaged for the past year more than ten millions per month. If no other nation ever rolled up a debt so rapidly, none certainly ever commenced the reduction of its debt so soon after its creation. If our currency is depreciated, we have so far escaped the financial troubles that usually occur among nations at the close of expensive wars, and which there was reason to apprehend, should happen to us at the termination of the great war in which we have been engaged. If the business of the country is conducted upon changing and uncertain basis, it has been subject to no severe revulsions. If our taxes are heavy, our resources are almost unlimited, while the disposition of the people to bear cheerfully their burdens is a surprise even to those who have the greatest confidence in the honor and good faith of a free people. In my opinion, the people of the United States are to make republicanism illustrious among the nations by establishing the fact that the securities of a republican government are the safest of all securities, and that the people who impose taxes upon themselves are the most jealous of their national credit.

I do not, however, disguise the fact that great financial difficulties are still to be overcome;—that our present prosperity is rather apparent than real, that we are measuring values by a false standard, that we are, in fact, exposed to all the dangers which attend an inflated and irredeemable currency which diminishes labor—the true source of national wealth—and stimulates speculation and extravagance, which lead invariably to thriftlessness and demoralization. Before the country becomes again really prosperous, the specie standard must be restored, prices reduced, industry stimulated, the products of the country increased, the balance of trade between the United States and other nations cease to be against us, all the great interests of the country cared for and protected by wise and impartial legislation, and all sections of the country be brought again into harmonious and practical relations with the general government. That the country will be again thus really prosperous is as certain as anything in the future. That it should be so at an early day, and that too without a financial crisis, it is only necessary that there should be proper legislation by Congress, economy in the public expenditures, and fidelity on the part of those who are entrusted with the management of the public revenues.

"THE RADICAL 'CONGRESS'"—Hon. Hamilton Ward lately made a speech in Maryland, in which he said: "Who are against this radical Congress? Jeff. Davis is against it; Robert E. Lee is against it. The same men that burn down your dwellings at night, and made war hideous along your border are against it. The sneaking, hissing, Northern Copperhead is against it. I say to you, who is for it? Every mother that has lost a son; every wife that has given her husband; and every one who visits the sacred graves that are sprinkled all over the land, in tears and sorrow; every lover of this country, North and South, is in favor of it."

THE ATMOSPHERE OF LOVE is a pure, sweet breath. This desideratum is one of the results of using Sozodont, which not only invigorates and preserves the Teeth but renders the Mouth as fragrant as a rose.

PERSONS INTENDING TO VISIT THE STATE FAIR should not fail to supply themselves with a suit of that excellent clothing now on sale at the ST. LOUIS STORE, NO. 111 FRONT STREET. The Graefenberg Company's Uterine CATHOLICON does not contain one particle of calomel or mercury, and cases of Female Complaints which require other treatment than the Catholicon are extremely rare. It should be used in all cases of Deranged Monthly Periods, Weakness, Irregular Appetite, Nervousness, Headache, Disturbed Sleep, Acid Stomach, Nausea, Indigestion and Pains and Difficulties connected with the Uterine Organs.

THE UTERINE CATHOLICON

Is a most successful remedy for Gravel and all affections of the Kidneys and Bladder, while in the troubles and symptoms attending Pregnancy, the benefits of the Catholicon are most remarkable. It is a perfect restorer of functional and general health from bleeding, womanhood to the turn of life, and those patients who have used the GRAEFENBERG COMPANY'S UTERINE CATHOLICON find difficulty in expressing their thankfulness for the beneficial effects of this wonderful medicine.

THE WEEKLY OREGONIAN.

THE WEEKLY OREGONIAN is published this morning. It contains the latest telegraphic news from the East and California—a selection of the best articles appearing in THE DAILY OREGONIAN—full and reliable news from the Mines, and the most copious commercial information published by any paper in the State.

The average amount of reading matter in the WEEKLY OREGONIAN is double that published by any other Journal in Oregon, and in the particular of Commercial statistics and the Markets we aim to make it the most reliable and complete publication. Reports to Oregon interests a specialty.

☞ Single copies 12½ cents, or $3 00 per year, to any part of the United States, or British Columbia.

THE FIRE.—At nine o'clock yesterday morning the alarm of fire was given—the fire was found to be in the Planing Works of Messrs. Northrop, Cory & Co. The fire originated from a plug being forced out of one of the steam pipes. Immediately the flames spread all over the room. One of the proprietors was in the room at the time, and to his prompt action the saving of the building and stock is owing. When the accident occurred he ran and closed the iron doors, which kept the flames within the fire-proof portion of the building and gave an opportunity to remove the turpentine stored in the front part of the building. The Fire Department turned out promptly—Hose Co. No. 4 were first on the ground—then Co. No. 3, and next, Willamette Co. No. 1. Hook and Ladder No. 3 and next, Willamette Co No 1. Hook and Ladder Co No 2 could not get their section in and remained in the engine house. Much praise is due to Capt. Ingraham for his efficient aid. They were so soon upon the ground that the flames had not time to do but little damage. Protection No 4 was decidedly fast. They no doubt will be known as the steamer Go it boys. Portland is fortunate in deserving the steamer. The loss of Messrs. Northrop, Cory & Co will not exceed $100. Our attention was called to the trap having been taken off the cistern at the corner of Columbia and Front street before the arrival of the engines, and left open. The coiled rushing around and over it. Not knowing of its having been opened it is surprising that men did not fall into the cistern, and we suppose that the cistern remains closed until opened for the engines, or that it be guarded, so that no accident may occur.

POLICE COURT.—In Police Court yesterday a man named Valentine was brought before His Honor Judge Dillon, charged with disturbing the quiet of our peaceful city. The man was found to be crazy, and was sent by Justice Marquam as an insane person. After examination he was sent to the Asylum as a pauper. The Victoria upon the Columbia, which arrived here upon the morning of the 4th inst. Upon leaving the ship he went to the West Chear House, and engaged a bed and went to his room. In a few minutes he returned down stairs in great trepidation saying that three men in the room had designs upon his life. He was quieted and sent back to the room. A police officer was called and they went to his room to ascertain more of his condition. He going into his room he was found in great fright, and left the building under the impression that men were following him. He then rushed through the open door and fell down the flight of stairs. He was comparatively unhurt by his fall. He was then taken to the station house for safe keeping. This instance of a pauper and insane person coming all the way from Victoria, and the same evening of his arrival showing himself to be a lunatic, certainly requires explanation and we hope our authorities will get the facts in the case, and if he has been sent here by a plan to our community let him be sent back.

ROBBERY.—A robbery was committed at the store of J. S. Levy, corner of Front and Main streets, between three and four o'clock on yesterday morning. It seems that Mr. Levy, on retiring for the night, placed his pants, containing about $200 in money, under his pillow. About 4 o'clock he was awakened by feeling the pants pull from under the pillow, he immediately arose and looked to see if the money was safe and, finding it gone, gave the alarm, when he discovered that his pants, coat and vest—missing. He then went into the room where he found the window raised. The robbery was evidently given, but no trace of the burglars could be found. A policeman was called, and upon inquiry of Mrs. Levy, found that the only man with whom she had had any dealings the previous day was a Chinaman named Ah Hee Kee. The Chinaman's house was searched and a vest found thrust into a corner, which Mr. Levy recognized as his. The Chinaman is in the house when arrested, and is left to await an examination. Later in the day Ah Chingman, on whom suspicion had fallen, was arrested, who is thought to be the principal in the affair. No further trace has yet been found of the money.

FIRE.—Yesterday morning the proprietor of the Eagle Bakery was much surprised by a friend entering the store, bringing with him a cash drawer, which he had found in the street. The drawer had been forced upon the sidewalk and recognized by its having in it a number of bread tickets. It appears that at about 4 o'clock in the morning the proprietor had supplied himself with change and was about to go for his night, and then sat down at the desk to write a letter. While thus engaged, the thief no doubt entered the store, abstracted the drawer and carried it into the street, when, taking out the money, he threw the drawer away. The drawer, by the by, had been supplied before the robbery, and but a small sum of money—the proceeds made in the afternoon. Two robberies in one night is very good for Portland. There is no doubt a number of desperate characters in our midst who need to be closely watched, or more serious than the mere abstraction of a cent in their pockets, and ready for anything from a robbery to a murder.

ACCIDENT.—We learn that the house of Mr. Wood, at the Cascades, was broken into on Thursday night, by two robbers. Mr. Brittan was accosted by the robbers, and presenting a pistol, fired upon the burglars before. They decamped in haste, getting safe away. Mr. Brittan's ball missing but the loud fired.

A MATCH GAME of Base Ball will be played at 4 o'clock this afternoon on the ground of the Pioneers between the first nine and the field. Every member of the Club is requested to be present. The challenge from the Clackamas Base Ball Club of Oregon City, was accepted at a meeting of the Club held last evening.

NEW HOUSE.—We see that Messrs. Estes & Stimpson have the frame of their new mill up. It is built upon a good stone foundation, is three stories high, and is a fine frame. The timbers are very large and traced in a workmanlike manner. This kind of enterprise tells well for the future prosperity of Portland.

Messrs. Northrup, Cory & Co. desire to return their thanks to the Chief Engineer and the Fire Department of Portland, for the prompt and effective aid rendered them in subduing the fire at the Turpentine Works on yesterday morning.

THE PLAY.—Remember the races to-day at the Willamette Course. It will be the most attractive scene of the season, and will be the first exhibition of amateur driving. We wish for all a good time, and as all cannot win, we cry hurrah for the winner.

RAIN.—We noticed last evening, upon the arrival of the Ajax, a number of emigrants from Iowa. They bring five wagons and seventy head of stock. Two wagons A. T. at Vancouver.

FIRE.—We learn that there was a fire at the Island on last Thursday evening. The building was owned by [illegible]. The fire is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary.

The Daily Press will go to Victoria direct at 3 o'clock this evening.

Dispatches for Mart Holbrook at the Telegraph Office.

KEARNEY.—In the full report of the speech of Andrew Johnson at the Continental Hotel, in the Sunday Clipper, (an abstract of which we gave by telegraph) we find the following passage, which any one who has any reverence for that Being whose name may not be lightly uttered, can read without a shudder. It is a comparatively light thing that this demagogue and ruffian should vilify his fellow men, but when he undertakes to drag the Almighty down to a level with such men as himself, it is about time he himself was shamed down. He got the miserable conceit with which he closes the passage from a vile bacchanalian song. It is not original.

I am told, on this occasion, that there is an association here to night who have come forward under the appellation of their own profession for the purpose of manifesting their regard. I want you to understand that I do not feel indifferent to a thing of that kind, for in this Government of ours it is worth that makes the man, and the want of it the fellow," and if there is an association here to-night, as I have been informed there is, that calls itself the Tailors' Protective Association, then to them I return my sincere thanks with no feeble assurances of my regard for their profession. (Three cheers for Andrew Johnson, intermingled with groans.) There is no position in life in which I could be placed that would lead me to forget my early history and my early profession—there is none that could make me forget the past so far as the profession is concerned. We should [illegible] her, when we refer to the mechanical interests of this country in connection with the agricultural, that they constitute the basis on which this Government rests, and when we refer to the profession that you represent here to night, in connexion with your fellow-citizens, let me say that our great Father in Heaven, the Lord of the world, was a tailor by trade. (Laughter and applause.) And when you refer to a historical account of this thing, you find that my remarks are literally true.

CORNS AND CORNS.—Those who are suffering from Coughs, Colds, Consumption, Sore Throat, etc. should try Brown's Bronchial Troches," a simple remedy which is in almost every case effectual. The Troches have been tested by time, and pronounced universally superior to all other articles for the same purpose.

DATES TO OCTOBER 4.

New York Money and Stock Market.

NEW YORK Oct 4—Th. Post's money article says the loan market is easy at supply today is adequate for all demands. Call loans at 6 per cent. Prime mercantile paper is unchanged.

The stock market is irregular. Government securities are steady. The dull. Railroad shares are [illegible] exception.

The Chronicle of this city says: Gold is up and specie shipments are still rampant. The [illegible] are [illegible] as rather more active old five-twenties being more in demand.

We understand that the Treasury Department is not making open offer for the sale of gold. It has been and 1865 is yet prepared to entertain offers in amounts not less than half a million from the banks of not over 50 per cent. in gold. Money is [illegible] and [illegible] Foreign Exchange is quiet and [illegible] demand from the western cities is not quoted easy.

Foreign Exchange is quiet at [illegible] for prime bankers' demand over buyers. The quotations for Saturday's steamer are 4 fixed.

Gold is rather easier for the moment.

Certain parties in this city being engaged in putting in circulation spurious Mexican bonds, the Secretary of the Mexican Legation in Washington has issued a circular announcing that no bonds can ever be considered valid and binding, on the Mexican Republic unless they are approved by the Minister accredited for the United States, this condition being in accordance with specific instructions from the Mexican Government.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH

SAN FRANCISCO Oct 5—Edward N. Greeley has been arrested on a charge of forgery.

C. K. Smith, of this city died at White Sulphur Springs, Napa county, California, this morning. He was shot through the shoulder by the accidental explosion of a gun while he was hunting. He lived after receiving the wound, but his death has finally resulted from the [illegible] received by the wound. Mr. Smith was well known in this city as one of its most active business men, and his excellent qualities as a man had made him a wide circle of friends. He has been a prominent in stock and banking operations, and was connected with the Sisters' Bank at the time of his death.

James L. Coggswell commenced suit in the Fourth District to-day against Henry D. Coggswell, his brother, to recover $5,000 damages for alleged use of slanderous words.

Messrs. Newman & Meyer have just completed the first silk dress pattern ever made in California. It is thirty eight inches wide by twelve yards in length, is strong and substantial and soft and glossy. The manufacturers have made arrangements for conducting the business of silk manufacturing on an extensive scale from raw material imported from China and Japan, as well as that produced in California.

A writ of habeas corpus has been taken out and will be argued this evening before Judge Pendleton, in the case of Thomas Bobelite charged with the killing of Patterson, in Walla Walla. It is understood the argument for release will be the insufficiency of proof testimony on establishing the fact that he is a Pagan from Turkey.

The libel case of August Kundart vs. Frederick Hess proprietor of the California Democrat resulted in the jury rendering a verdict for plaintiff for $350.

Walter Felton and James Knowland have been discharged from their duties and liabilities by a decree of the County Court.

Legislative Proceedings.

SALEM, October 5th, 1866.

The Senate to-day passed the bill to change the time of holding the biennial session of the Legislature from September to December. The Senate concurred in the House joint resolution to transfer from Penitentiary fund to the Legislative fund not to exceed $12,000. The most of the day was spent in committee of the whole on the school bill, which has been amended in a great many particulars and ordered engrossed for third reading on Saturday. It will pass the Senate. The House passed the bill for the relief of the counties comprising the Fifth Judicial District, refunding $2,100 paid the Judge, also the bill creating a Board of Pilot Commissioners for the Umpqua river. Most of the day was spent in discussing a resolution to instruct the Judiciary Committee to prepare a bill to tax United States Bonds, which passed ayes 25 to nays 18.

Mat. Bledsoe was returned to his old quarters in the Penitentiary this morning. It appears he received a shot in the thigh at the time of his escape. During his absence he had lived mostly on garden stuff, fruit and hams of frogs.

AN INCIDENT OF ROCKY FACE.—Brigadier Gen. Morgan related the following incident that occurred on his late of operations. While his brigade occupied the gap, between Oak Knob and Rocky Face, a corporal of Company I, Sixteenth Illinois, broke the line, and under cover of projecting ledges got up within twenty feet of a squad of rebels on the summit. Taking shelter from the sharpshooters he called out:

"I say, rebs, don't you want to hear old Abe's amnesty proclamation read?"

"Yes! yes!" was the unanimous cry; "give us the ape's proclamation."

"Attention!" commanded the corporal, and in a clear and resonant voice he read the amnesty proclamation to the rebels, beneath the cannon planted by rebel hands to destroy the fabric of government established by our fathers. When he arrived at those passages of the proclamation where the negro is referred to, he was interrupted by cries of "None of your d—d Abolitionism, look out for rocks!" and down over his hiding-place descended a shower of stones and rocks.

"Well, rebs, how do you like the terms? Will you hear it again?"

"Not to-day, you bloody Yank. Now crawl down in a hurry and we won't fire," was the response, and the daring corporal descended and rejoined his command, which had distinctly heard all that passed.—Frank Moore's "Anecdotes of the War."

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters should be in the possession of everybody in the mining regions. As a preventive of various dangerous diseases to which the gold seeker is liable it has no superior. While it is quite palatable even as a beverage, it is speedy and powerful in its effects upon the system. In all cases of Diarrhœa, Dysentery, and the prevailing fevers consequent upon exposure the Bitters will be found invaluable as a corrective. No man should enter upon the exposed life of a miner without first providing himself with Hostetter's preventive of stomach disease, nor should any of those who are now engaged in the occupation, fail to have recourse to the Bitters. Sold by all druggists and dealers everywhere. sep20 HODGE & CALEY 97 Front St.

Johnson's Speech at Cleveland—A Rich Document

The speech of Johnson at Cleveland was not reported by telegraph for some reason unexplained to the dispatch We fancy everybody will understand why it was not reported who reads the following from the Cleveland Leader

Fellow Citizens It is not for the purpose of making a speech that I now appear before you I am aware of the great curiosity which prevails to see strangers who have notoriety and standing in the country I know a large number of you desire to see General Grant and hear what he has to say [A voice— Three cheers for Grant] But you cannot see him to night he is extremely ill I regret I am not before you to make a speech but simply to make your acquaintance—to say How are you and how you good by

We are on our way to Chicago, to participate in or witness the laying of the corner stone of a monument to the memory of a distinguished fellow-citizen who is now no more It is not necessary for me to ment on the name of Stephen A Douglas to the people of Ohio [Applause] I am free to say I am flattered by the demonstrations I have witnessed, and being flattered, I don t mean to think it personal but as an evidence of what is pervading the public mind, and this demonstration is neither more nor less than an indication of the latent sentiment or feeling of the great mass of the people with regard to this great question

I come before you as an American citizen simply and not as the Chief Magistrate clothed in the insignia and paraphernalia of State but as an inhabitant of a State of the Union I know it has been said and that I was an alien [laughter], and that I did not reside in one of the States of the Union, and, therefore I could not be the Chief Magistrate, as the Constitution declares that I must be a citizen to occupy that office Therefore all that was necessary to depose its occupant was to declare the office vacant, or under pretext to prefer articles of impeachment And thus the individual who occupies the Chief Magistracy was to be disposed of and driven from power

There was, two years ago a ticket before you for the Presidency I was placed upon that ticket with a distinguished citizen, now no more [Voices—] It's a pity ' Too bad " Unfortunate] Yes I know there are some who say "unfortunate" Yes, unfortunate for some that God rules on high and deals in justice [Cheers] Yes, unfortunate! The ways of Providence are mysterious and incomprehensible controlling all those who exclaim unfortunate " [Bully for you '] I was going to say, my countrymen a short time since I was elected and placed upon the ticket. There was a platform proclaimed and adopted by those who placed me upon it. Notwithstanding a monstrous press, notwithstanding a subsidized gang of hirelings who have not ceased to traduce me, I have discharged all my official duties and fulfilled all my pledges. And I say here to-night that if my predecessor had lived, the vials of wrath would have been poured out on him [Cries of "Never! never!" and ' Three cheers for the Congress of the United States "

I came here as I was passing along and having been called upon for the purpose of exchanging views and ascertaining, if we could, who was wrong [Cries You are] that was my object in appearing before you to night. I want to say that I have lived among the American people and have represented them in some public capacity for the last twenty five years Where is the man or the woman who can place their finger upon one single act of mine deviating from any pledge of mine or in violation of the Constitution of the country? [Cheers and cries of "New Orleans "] Who is he?—what language does he speak?—what religion does he profess?—that can come and place his finger upon one pledge I ever violated or one principle I ever proved false to [Voice " New Orleans " Another, "Why don't you hang Jeff Davis "?] Hang Jeff Davis" [Cries of " Down with him "] Hang Jeff Davis" [Voice " Hang Wendell Phillips "] Why don t you hang him? [Cries of " Give us an opportunity "] Haven t you got the Courts? Haven t you got the Attorney General? Who is your Chief Justice who has refused to sit on his trial? [Groans and Cheers] I am not the Chief Justice, I am not the Attorney General, I am not the jury But I ll tell you what I did do, I called upon your Congress that is trying to break up the Government [Hisses and cries of " A liel" Great confusion Voice " Don't get mad "] I am not mad [Hisses] I will tell you who is mad " Whom the gods want to destroy they first make mad " Did your Congress order any of them to be tried? [Three cheers for Congress "]

Then, fellow citizens, we might as well allay our passion and permit reason to resume her empire and prevail In presenting the few remarks that I designed to make, my intention was to address myself to your common sense, your judgment, your better feeling not to the passion and malignancy of your hearts [A voice, "How about Moses? " This was my object in presenting myself on this occasion, and to say "How d'ye 'and "Good bye "

In the assembly here to-night the remark has been made "Traitor!" Traitor, my countrymen? Will you bear me? [Cries of "Yes "] And will you hear me for my cause and for the Constitution of my country? ["Yes, yes, go on "] I want to know when, or where, or under what circumstances Andrew Johnson got as Executive, but in any capacity, ever deserted any principle, or violated the Constitution of this country? ["Never, never "] Let me ask this large and intelligent audience if your Secretary of State, who served four years under Lincoln, and who was placed upon the butcher's block as it were, and hacked and gashed all to pieces, scarred by the assassin's knife—when he turned traitor? [Cries of "never "] If I were disposed to play the orator and deal in declamation, even to night I would imitate one of the ancient tragedies, and would take Seward, bring him before you and point you to the hacks and scars upon person [A voice, "God bless him!"] I would exhibit the bloody garments, saturated with gore from his gaping wounds Then I would ask you who is the traitor? [A voice, "Thad Stevens "] Why don't you hang Thad Stevens and Wendell Phillips? [Cheers.] —

I have been fighting traitors in the South, They have been whipped and crushed They acknowledged their defeat and accepted the terms of the Constitution And now as I go around the circle, having fought traitors at the South, I am prepared to fight them at the North [Cheers] God being willing, with your help [Cries of "We won't give it I"] They will be crushed North and this glorious Union of ours will be preserved [Cheers] I do not appear here as the Chief Magistrate of twenty five States put of thirty six [Cheers] I come here to night with the flag of my country and the constellation of thirty six stars untarnished Are you for dividing the country? [Cries of "No I" Then I am President of the whole United States [Cheers] I will tell you another thing I understand the discordant notes in this crowd to night. He who is opposed to the restoration of the Government and the Union is a greater traitor than Jeff Davis or Wendell Phillips [Loud cheers] I am against both of them! [Cries of " Give it to them "] Some of you talk about traitors in the South, but have not the courage to go away from your homes to fight them [Laughter and cheers] The courageous men Grant, Sherman, Farragut and the long list of the distinguished sons of the Union were in the field and led on the gallant hosts to conquest and to victory, while you remained cowardly at home [Applause and cries of "Bully!"] Now, when these brave men have returned home many of whom have left an arm or a leg or their blood upon many a battle-field they found you at home speculating and committing frauds upon the Government [Laughter and cheers] You pretend now to have great respect and sympathy for the poor brave fellow who has left an arm on the battle field [Cries of Is this dignified?] I understand you You may talk about the dignity of the President [Cries of How was it about his making a speech on the 22d of February]

I have been with you on the battle-fields of this country and I can tell you furthermore to night, we have to pay these brave men who have shed their blood You speculated and now the great mass of the people have got to work it out It is true that the great mass of the American people should understand what your designs are [A voice, What did General Butler say?] What did General Grant say? And what does General Grant say about General Butler! What does General Sherman say? [A voice ' What did General Sheridan say? Now Orleans] New Orleans?] General Sheridan says that in order for the restoration of the Government that General Sheridan fought for [A voice " Bully '] But, fellow citizens let this all pass I care not for my dignity There is a certain portion of our countrymen who will respect a citizen whenever he is entitled to respect [A voice That is so] There is another class that have no respect for themselves and consequently they cannot respect any one else I know a man and a gentleman when ever I meet him I have only to look in his face and if I was to see yours by the light of day I do not doubt but that I should see coward ce and treachery written upon it Come out here where I can see you I understand traitors I have been fighting them at the southern end of the line and we are now fighting them in the other direction I care here neither to criminate or recriminate, but when attacked, my plan is to defend

The Soldiers —The St Louis Democrat has the following in regard to the soldiers of the country

The New York Times very truly says that the returned soldiers are young men with intelligent convictions that each one of them has become a center of influence and power and that if they could be got as a body on the side of the radicals the triumph of the latter in future elections would be secured, and their power in the country would be made permanent for at least a generation ' In view of the admission we may get to our readers to look at them and see where the soldiers—the fighting soldiers and especially the rank and file—actually cast their influence Look at such gatherings as the Soldiers Conventions recently held in this city at which over eleven hundred appointed delegates were present embracing intelligent men from every county and every former military organization in the State how do the ten thousand voters who thronged around Logan William Hecker Oglesby and Kinchen in the evening, and cheered them to the echo ' The Times may rest assured that no man who attended that meeting doubts on which side the soldiers of Missouri cast their influence How is it in Illinois? Need we ask, when Logan leads the column and heads the radical ticket In Indiana eight of the Congressional candidates nominated by the Republicans are gallant veterans Throughout the whole Northwest it is the same the soldiers, almost to a man vote the same way that they fought—to put down rebellion and to secure to treason some other punishment than the loving welcome that Raymond and his confreres gave Dunk Taylor and Mosely at Philadelphia ' How is it at the East ' Not much better for the Conventionists we judge In Pennsylvania we notice that the boys in blue" are organized all over the State and from all published accounts we reckon nine tenths of them are for the gallant and true soldier General Geary In New York the Democrats tried to seduce the soldiers by nominating Slocum —a popular man and a soldier of good reputation But the vote showed that the trick did not work well, the soldiers voted almost en masse against him—not because they disliked the man, but because he had sold himself to Copperheads Raymond can judge whether he or General Dix or any of the Conventionists will fare any better having done the very same thing in Connecticut soldiers who do not follow Generals Hawley, Ferry, and Terry, are as scarce as snakes in Ireland In New Jersey the Democrats tried to save the State from Republican grasp by nominating that ' long range General ' Runyon—the man who did his fighting thirty miles from the enemy They were beaten by a civilian, for whom nine tenths of the soldiers voted In Massachusetts General D N Couch was picked up to give the Democratic ticket responsibility but he was beaten by somewhere between 50,000 and 100,000—accuracy is need less And so it is all over the country When over a General has been nominated Copperheads Democrats or Conservatives, he has been whipped by the very soldiers for whose votes the politicians were fishing The boys in blue know on which side they are voting, and neither Blair nor Slocum nor Couch nor Runyon nor Steadman, nor Custer, nor Warren, nor any other General who may sell his principles for the hope of office can take the soldiers with him

Immense bribes and other inducements have been offered to Generals of popularity in the hope that they might take the soldiers with them in their defection The Generals have been sometimes bought the soldiers, never They are not live stock on any General's plantation to be sold with the estate and the quicker the Johnson politicians find that out the better The soldiers have a profound appreciation of the fact that when it comes to voting and the duties and responsibilities of citizenship the plain blue jacket counts just as much as the starred shoulder straps They think and act for themselves and cast no influence on the right side, which the Times will be able to measure pretty well the day after the November elections!

The Atlantic Cable —At a recent meeting of the French Academy of Sciences, M Babinet suggested that it would be well to take advantage of the Atlantic telegraph to determine with precision the longitude of the American terminus There was reason to make-bustle he said, because there were very few chances of the transmissions lasting long As a reason for his opinion, M Babinet produced a piece of heavy telegraph cable which had been five years at the bottom of the British Channel The exterior metallic covering was completely eaten off by the salt water, which had also commenced to affect the central twist After stating the difference in the sizes of the cable exhibited and the Atlantic Cable which is smaller and averring that the sea water destroys fully a millimetre (about 1 25th part of an inch) of the metallic covering every year, M Babinet reiterated his belief that the success of this cable would be of only ephemeral duration

Can't Behave Themselves All at Once —There is some wit in the apology a Southern woman makes for the ill behavior of the people of her section since they were beaten in the war

"We are in exactly the same position as the little boy whose father had given him a severe whipping and then told him to stop crying immediately. The little fellow gave three or four loud screams. The father applied the rod again, whereupon the child stopped crying and looked pitifully into his sire's face saying "Pa, you are mighty hard on a fellow, do you expect me to cease off all at once ?"

The Late Election in Kentucky —Well may the Louisville Journal deplore, to shame and sorrow, the disgraceful result in Kentucky It says truly

"Kentucky and the Southern people and the republic will bitterly rue and deeply curse the unnatural and deplorable work of Monday This secession victory, with its concomitants and Memphis and New Orleans antecedents will in all human probability, lead to a train of events that will establish negro suffrage throughout the whole Southern States within two years and a half or three years at furthest!"

Significant —The Philadelphia Press alluding to the late Copper Johnson Convention says

It is a noteworthy fact—one noticed, that may well challenge the attention of the whole country —that in the entire proceedings of the late Mongrel Convention the name of Abraham Lincoln does not once occur

Madame Jerome Bonaparte of Baltimore has been engaged writing her "Memoirs" or auto biography, which is now nearly completed It will cover the history of more than half a century including Europe and America, directly setting forth her own personal and practical intercourse and experience with the world during that period.

The Needle Gun Resisted by France —The needle-gun has again been tried at Chalons and found wanting About one hundred and fifty of these weapons were put into the hands of the Guards and the commission has reported that these are not suitable to French troops

Mrs Polk —Mrs Leonidas Polk, widow of the Louisiana Bishop and rebel General is in such reduced circumstances that she has opened a female educational institute to support herself and family.

Weekly Review

Portland Friday 2 P M } Oct 5th, 1866 }

Trade since our last has been good and prices firm The filling up of Fall stocks has made the city seem quite lively The prospects of Fall and Winter trade promises finely The Bulletin gives the following interesting article on sugar

Samuel L Castle writes to the Honolulu papers, advising the planters at the Islands to enter into an agreement to furnish the refineries here with a stipulated amount of Sugar annually at such price as may be agreed upon in order to rule out free trade in market as far as possible. Importations from Manila In April 1865 the manager of the San Francisco and Pacific Sugar Refinery addressed the planters a circular offering to contract for half of their crop at 15 cts c i f above the same standard of Manila Sugar Mr Castle thinks if this offer had been accepted better prices would have been realized, because in that event the refineries would have ordered less from Manila and the supply from market would have been nearer the demand as it is The receipts of Sugar on the Pacific coast for 1864 was estimated at 30 000 000 lbs The refineries are said to be turning out of Crushed and Coffee Sugars about 50 000 000 lbs annually for the consumption of white choice "50 000 lbs from Sugar Is giving the foreign importation of Sugar at this port for 1865 Mr Castle falls into an error—probably by copying from some estimate He gives the importation at 44,500 000 lbs The Bulletin Register for that year put it down from the Custom House books at 66,458 lbs 11 1864 42 106 lbs showing an increase in 1865 of 24 3 lbs Our imports for the first six months this year compared with the same time in 1866 are as follows

1866	lbs	7
1865		17 687 4
Increase this year		9 664 741

Shawls, as per account for the first seven months of this year than for the year 1865 over 1864 Notwithstanding this increase the present condition of our garment trade is healthy Crushed Sugar is the true article at present but we think the price will soon reach a higher figure Coffee sugars being good as ever, and raw Sugars, especially are firmly held in view of the partial light receipts from the Islands for the next two months the production of Hawaiian Sugar has increased from 000 000 lbs to about 000 000 lbs 000 000 lbs The crop this year is thought will exceed the latter quantity by 000 000 lbs The exports of Sugar from Honolulu during the last four years were as follows

1862	lbs 3 905 995	1864	lbs 1 414 41
1863	lbs 4 392,127	1865	lbs 18 [illegible]

The exports for the first six months of this year are as follows with the same time in 1865

1866		lbs	31 [illegible]
1865		lbs	25 4 [illegible]
Increase this year		lbs	2 0.6 5.8

The exports for the first quarter of the year are much lighter in proportion to the receipts which is accounted for by the fact that the heavy receipts of November and December will not be fully declared in [illegible] March, May

There are three Sugar refineries in San Francisco The San Francisco and Pacific is the oldest and largest having a capital of $600 000 it has been in operation since 1863 The Bay City Refinery which is owned mostly by Germans is the next largest with a capital of $400 000 The third refinery which is owned mostly by Americans is the smallest of the three with a capital of $300 000 The refineries still carry on the business of refining raw and refined Sugars for the present as we will not be for for [illegible] 000 000 lbs This entire amount will change hands in the market before the bulk will be consumed in the State Our refineries are fully equal to all the wants of the State and coast The price at which the refiners are placed in the market has had a marked effect in the receipts as did the time at which the duty was to be changed New The last change was that the Orleans Sugars can be made here cheaper than it can be landed here from New York, to say nothing of the superiority over the imported article Our lowest portation of refined Sugar was in 1861 when we received 4 435 bbls last year our imports were 6,795 bbls Since January 1st we have received 6,453 bbls against 5 069 of the same time last year Prices since the beginning of March of Sugar imported annually since January 1 1860 as well as the quantity for the first six months of each year

Cotton Goods and Woolen Market.

Portland October 5 1866

The Dry Goods trade has received a wonderful impetus since our last and is now in a more flourishing condition than was expected by the majority of merchants three weeks ago. The indications are, that it will be protracted There is a concurrent statement that the stocks of goods in the interior are pretty well exhausted, and traders agree that buyers are more ready to purchase than for many months past All staple Cotton goods meet with a ready sale, and some descriptions, as Heavy Sheetings and Shirtings, standard Prints, Denims, Coburgs etc. have realized better prices
